Dear [REDACTED]

Response to your request for official information

Thank you for your request under the Official Information Act 1982 (the Act) on 9 December 2020 for:

- “1. Could you please provide the grounds on which the NZ government deems, positive Covid test results are either Active or Historical?”*
- 2. Could you please provide the links to the scientific evidence that supports this distinction, given existing literature is cautious about communicability of disease as long as the virus is shed?”*
- 3. Could you please provide links to any verified scientific evidence that being positive for antibodies excludes active infection?”*
- 4. Could you please provide a link to arrivals information by country of origin and visa since March 2020.*
- 5. Could you please provide the summary info in a table (formerly published) on date of arrival, and country of origin of all positive cases, and the date they were reported to the ministry.*
- 6. What are the longest dates from arrival in NZ, to the time arrivals tested positive in NZ (when there was no known community spread)”*

Information in response to each part of your request is as follows.

“1. Could you please provide the grounds on which the NZ government deems, positive Covid test results are either Active or Historical?”

All positive tests for SARS-CoV-2 are notified to the local Medical Officer of Health who is responsible for subsequent management. The classification of a case as “historical” is based upon the observation that some individuals who have been infected with SARS-CoV-2 continue to secrete small amounts of virus for a considerable period of time but are not considered infectious. The re-classification of a case as “historic” is made on a “case by case basis, after reviewing clinical and laboratory data. The clinical data include a history of previous positive tests, travel, clinical symptoms and contacts with known cases. Laboratory data include the results of the PCR test, including the cycle threshold (Ct) value, which is an assessment of the viral load and blood tests for antibodies.

"2. Could you please provide the links to the scientific evidence that supports this distinction, given existing literature is cautious about communicability of disease as long as the virus is shed?"

The literature regarding the infectivity of any individual is rapidly evolving. A meta-analysis was published in November 2020 which included 79 studies on SARS-CoV-2 (Cevik et al., 2021). This paper aimed to characterise viral load, shedding, and viability across a variety of body fluids. No study detected live virus beyond day 9 of illness, even in the presence of high viral load based on Ct values.

"3. Could you please provide links to any verified scientific evidence that being positive for antibodies excludes active infection?"

Being positive for antibodies does not imply the absence of active infection. Viral replication, which implies the presence of live virus, continues after antibody production continues. (see Huang et al (Huang et al., 2020) for an outline of the temporal humoral response to SARS-CoV-2).

"4. Could you please provide a link to arrivals information by country of origin and visa since March 2020."

The Ministry does not hold information pertaining to the country of origin for all arrivals into the country. As such, this part of your request is refused under section 18(g) of the Act, as the information requested is not held by the Ministry and I have no reason to believe that it is held by another agency, organisation or Minister subject to the Act.

"5. Could you please provide the summary info in a table (formerly published) on date of arrival, and country of origin of all positive cases, and the date they were reported to the ministry."

Please refer to Document one, attached, for information pertaining to this part of your request.

"6. What are the longest dates from arrival in NZ, to the time arrivals tested positive in NZ (when there was no known community spread)"

Based on data to 10 December 2020, the longest period between arrival and a positive test was 17 days. Please note that this number is based on imported cases in managed isolation facilities. Also, not all cases detected in managed isolation facilities are due to active infections, historic infections have also been detected in cases in managed isolation facilities.

I trust this information fulfils your request. Under section 28(3) of the Act you have the right to ask the Ombudsman to review any decisions made under this request. The Ombudsman may be contacted by email at: info@ombudsman.parliament.nz or by calling 0800 802 602.

Please note that this response, with your personal details removed, may be published on the Ministry website at: www.health.govt.nz/about-ministry/information-releases/responses-official-information-act-requests.

Yours sincerely
