General overview of the audit

Elizabeth R Lifecare & Village (Elizabeth R) is certified to provide rest home and hospital services for up to 41 residents. The service is owned and operated by Heritage Lifecare Limited. Residents and whānau were complementary about the care provided.

Since the previous (certification) audit, the service has been certified to provide six single dual-purpose beds reconfigured from three apartments. The apartments have not yet been reconfigured and will not be until the residents currently living in the apartments vacate.

This surveillance audit was conducted against a subset of Ngā Paerewa Health and Disability Services Standard NZS 8134:2021 and the service provider's agreement with Health New Zealand – Te Whatu Ora. The audit process included review of policies and procedures, review of residents' and staff files, observations, and interviews with residents, whānau, governance, managers, staff, and a nurse practitioner.

A finding from the previous (certification) audit in relation to staff availability has been addressed. No areas requiring improvement were identified during this audit.

Ō tātou motika | Our rights

Includes 10 subsections that support an outcome where people receive safe services of an appropriate standard that comply with consumer rights legislation. Services are provided in a manner that is respectful of people's rights, facilitates informed choice, minimises harm, and upholds cultural and individual values and beliefs.

Subsections applicable to this service fully attained.

Elizabeth R provided an environment that supported residents' rights and culturally safe care. Staff demonstrated an understanding of residents' rights and obligations. There was a health plan that encapsulated care specifically directed at Māori, Pasifika, and other ethnicities. Elizabeth R worked collaboratively with internal and external Māori supports to encourage a Māori worldview of health in service delivery. There were processes in place to ensure residents who identified as Māori could be provided with equitable and effective services based on Te Tiriti o Waitangi and the principles of mana motuhake (self-determination). Māori in the service confirmed culturally appropriate care was taking place.

There were no residents who identified as Pasifika residing in Elizabeth R on the day of audit. However, processes were in place to enable Pacific people to be provided with services that recognised their worldviews and were culturally safe.

Residents and their whānau were informed of their rights according to the Code of Health and Disability Services Consumers' Rights (the Code) and these were upheld. Residents were safe from abuse and were receiving services in a manner that respected their dignity, privacy and independence. The service provided services and support to people in a way that was inclusive and respected their identity, choices and experiences. There was evidence that residents and their whānau were kept well informed.

Complaints are resolved promptly and effectively in collaboration with all parties involved. There are processes in place to ensure that the complaints process works equitably for Māori. Complaints were fully documented, with corrective actions in place where these were required.

Hunga mahi me te hanganga | Workforce and structure

Includes five subsections that support an outcome where people receive quality services through effective governance and a supported workforce.

Subsections applicable to this service fully attained.

The governing body assumes accountability for delivering a high-quality service. This includes supporting meaningful inclusion of Māori in governance groups, honouring Te Tiriti o Waitangi and reducing barriers to improve outcomes for Māori and people with disabilities (tāngata whaikaha). Planning ensures the purpose, values, direction, scope and goals for the organisation are defined. Service performance is monitored and reviewed at planned intervals. The clinical governance structure in place is appropriate to the size and complexity of the services provided.

The quality and risk management systems are focused on improving service delivery and care and are supported at governance level. Residents and whānau provide regular feedback, and staff participate in quality activities. An integrated approach includes collection and analysis of quality improvement data and identifies trends that lead to improvements. Actual and potential risks are identified and mitigated. Adverse events are documented, with corrective actions implemented. The service complies with statutory and regulatory reporting obligations.

Staff are appointed and managed using current good practice. Staff are suitably skilled and experienced. Staffing levels are sufficient to provide clinically and culturally appropriate care. A systematic approach to identify and deliver ongoing competency and learning supports safe and equitable service delivery. Staff are orientated to the service.

Ngā huarahi ki te oranga | Pathways to wellbeing

Includes eight subsections that support an outcome where people participate in the development of their pathway to wellbeing, and receive timely assessment, followed by services that are planned, coordinated, and delivered in a manner that is tailored to their needs.

Subsections applicable to this service fully attained.

When residents were admitted to Elizabeth R, a person-centred and whānau-centred approach was adopted. Relevant information was provided to the potential resident and their whānau. Meaningful partnerships with Māori communities or organisations to benefit Māori individuals and whānau have been developed.

Staff of Elizabeth R worked in partnership with the residents and their whānau to assess, plan and evaluate care. Care provided was based on comprehensive information, and accommodated any recent problems that might arise. Files reviewed demonstrated that care was evaluated on a regular and timely basis.

Medicines were safely managed and administered by staff who were competent to do so.

The food service met the nutritional needs of the residents, with special cultural needs catered for.

Residents were transitioned or transferred to other health services as required.

Te aro ki te tangata me te taiao haumaruru | Person-centred and safe environment

Includes two subsections that support an outcome where Health and disability services are provided in a safe environment appropriate to the age and needs of the people receiving services that facilitates independence and meets the needs of people with disabilities.		Subsections applicable to this service fully attained.

The facility met the needs of residents and was clean and well maintained. There was a current building warrant of fitness. Electrical and biomedical equipment had been checked and assessed as required. External areas were accessible, safe, provided shade and seating, and met the needs of people with disabilities.

There have been no changes to the building or evacuation planning since the previous audit.

Te kaupare pokenga me te kaitiakitanga patu huakita | Infection prevention and antimicrobial stewardship

Includes five subsections that support an outcome where Health and disability service providers' infection prevention (IP) and antimicrobial stewardship (AMS) strategies define a clear vision and purpose, with quality of care, welfare, and safety at the centre. The IP and AMS programmes are up to date and informed by evidence and are an expression of a strategy that seeks to maximise quality of care and minimise infection risk and adverse effects from antibiotic use, such as antimicrobial resistance.

Subsections applicable to this service fully attained.

The governing body, care home and village manager, and the infection control nurse (who is the clinical services manager) at Elizabeth R ensured the safety of residents and staff through a planned infection prevention and antimicrobial stewardship programme that was appropriate to the size and complexity of the service.

The infection prevention and antimicrobial stewardship programme was adequately resourced. The experienced and trained infection control nurse led the programme and was engaged in procurement processes.

Aged care-specific infection surveillance was undertaken, with follow-up action taken as required. Surveillance of infections was undertaken, and results were monitored and shared with the organisation's management and staff. Action plans were implemented as and when required.

Here taratahi | Restraint and seclusion

Includes four subsections that support outcomes where Services shall aim for a restraint and seclusion free environment, in which people's dignity and mana are maintained.

Subsections applicable to this service fully attained.

The service was a restraint-free environment. This was supported by the governing body and policies and procedures. There were no residents observed to be using restraint at the time of audit. A comprehensive assessment, approval and monitoring process, with regular reviews, is in place should restraint use be required in the future.

Staff interviewed demonstrated a sound knowledge and understanding of providing least restrictive practice, de-escalation techniques, alternative interventions, and restraint monitoring.

The plan incorporates the Ngā Paerewa standard in relation to antimicrobial stewardship (AMS) and restraint elimination across ethnicity. Ethnicity data is collected to support equitable service delivery. Each facility has its own business plan for its particular services, and Elizabeth R's plan was sighted during the audit. The

As service providers: Our governance body is accountable for delivering a highquality service that is responsive, inclusive, and sensitive to the cultural diversity of communities we serve.	business plan sets out the facility’s own goals over the duration of the plan and is reviewed quarterly. The service’s organisational philosophy and strategic plan reflects a person/whānau-centred approach to the services delivered at Elizabeth R. The clinical governance structure in place is appropriate to the size and complexity of the service provision. The service is managed by a CHVM, who is a registered nurse (RN), with the assistance of a clinical services manager (CSMs), who is also a RN; both oversee the clinical services being provided at Elizabeth R. Governance and the senior leadership team commits to quality and risk via policy, processes and through feedback mechanisms. This includes receiving regular information from each of its care facilities, including Elizabeth R. Internal data collection (e.g., adverse events, infections, audits and complaints) is aggregated, and corrective actions (at facility and organisation level as applicable) carried out. Feedback is made to the clinical governance group and to the board. Ethnicity data is collected to support equitable service delivery. Equity for Māori, Pasifika and tāngata whaikaha is addressed through the policy documentation and enabled through choice and control over supports and the removal of barriers that prevent access to information (e.g., information in other languages for the Code of Rights, complaints, and infection prevention and control). Elizabeth R utilises the skills of staff and senior managers and supports them in making sure barriers to equitable service delivery are surmounted. The service holds contracts with Health New Zealand – Te Whatu Ora (Te Whatu Ora) for age-related residential care (ARRC) services at rest home and hospital level, long-term support - chronic health conditions (LTS-CHC), short-term care (respite), and general practitioner (GP) beds. It also has individual Accident Compensation Corporation (ACC) and Whaikaha contracts in place. Thirty-seven (37) residents were receiving services at the time of audit. No residents were receiving care under the LTS-CHC contract, the ARRC respite contract, and no residents were utilising the designated GP beds.

Subsection 2.2: Quality and risk The people: I trust there are systems in place that keep me safe, are responsive, and are focused on improving my experience and outcomes of care. Te Tiriti: Service providers allocate appropriate resources to specifically address continuous quality improvement with a focus on achieving Māori health equity. As service providers: We have effective and organisation-wide governance systems in place relating to continuous quality improvement that take a risk-based approach, and these systems meet the needs of people using the services and our health care and support workers.	FA	The organisation has a planned quality and risk system that reflects the principles of continuous quality improvement. This includes the management of incidents/accidents/hazards, complaints, audit activities, a regular resident satisfaction survey, policies and procedures, clinical incidents including falls, pressure injuries, infections, and wounds. Relevant corrective actions are developed and implemented to address any shortfalls; these include ethnicity information to allow for inequality to be identified and addressed. Progress against quality outcomes is evaluated. Quality data is communicated and discussed, and this was confirmed by staff at interview. Staff document adverse and near miss events in line with the National Adverse Events Reporting Policy. A sample of incidents forms reviewed showed these were fully completed, incidents were investigated, and action plans developed and followed up in a timely manner. Ethnicity information was collected and analysed as part of adverse event reporting. Five adverse events were looked at in detail; all five were fully completed, with actions required to minimise these events recorded in the residents' progress notes, and strategies to minimise recurrence were included in the residents' ongoing plan of care. Neurological observations had been documented for residents who had an unwitnessed fall, or a witnessed fall with a witnessed 'head knock'. The CHVM and CSM understood and have complied with essential notification reporting requirements. There have been 16 notifications completed and reported to Manatū Hauora in the last 12 months; 12 of these related to RN shortage in 2023 (affecting 14 shifts), one following a COVID-9 outbreak, one related to missing medication, and two for falls. The CHVM and CSM were aware of the change for notifying pressure injuries (PIs) to the Health Safety and Quality Commission (HSQC), but no notifications have been required to date.
Subsection 2.3: Service management The people: Skilled, caring health care and support workers listen to me, provide personalised care, and treat me as a whole person. Te Tiriti: The delivery of high-quality health care that is	FA	There is a documented and implemented process for determining staffing levels and skill mixes to provide culturally and clinically safe care, 24 hours a day, seven days a week (24/7). Staffing of the facility has been reviewed and increased following a finding at the last (certification) audit that there were insufficient staff to meet the needs of the residents, primarily due to the design of the building. Review of four weeks of rosters showed that staffing was

The facility continues to adjust staffing levels to meet the changing needs of residents; this was observed from the rosters, which showed staffing was increased recently when the acuity of residents increased. Care staff reported there were adequate staff to complete the work allocated to them. Residents and whānau interviewed supported this. The service is managed by the CHVM, supported by the CSM; both are RNs. There are RNs on duty 24 hours per day/seven days per week (24/7), and there is a first aid certified staff member on duty 24/7. Job/role descriptions are in place for all positions, including senior positions. These specify the requirements for the position and key performance indicators (KPIs) to assess performance. Continuing education is planned on an annual basis and includes mandatory training requirements. Related competencies are assessed and support equitable service delivery. Care staff have access to a New Zealand Qualification Authority education programme to meet the requirements of the provider's agreements with Te Whatu Ora.
Subsection 2.4: Health care and support workers The people: People providing my support have knowledge, skills, values, and attitudes that align with my needs. A diverse mix of people in adequate numbers meet my needs. Te Tiriti: Service providers actively recruit and retain a Māori health workforce and invest in building and maintaining their capacity and capability to deliver health care that meets the needs of Māori. As service providers: We have sufficient health care and support workers who are skilled and qualified to provide clinically and culturally safe, respectful, quality care and services.	FA	Human resources management policies and processes are based on good employment practice and relevant legislation and include recruitment, selection, orientation, and staff training and development. There are job descriptions in place for all positions that include outcomes, accountability, responsibilities, authority, and functions to be achieved in each position. Descriptions also cover responsibilities and additional functions, such as holding a restraint or infection prevention and control (IPC) portfolio. Ethnicity data is recorded and used in line with health information standards. Staff information is secure, and accessible only to those authorised to use it. A sample of six staff records were reviewed; all evidenced implementation of the recruitment process, employment contracts, reference checking, police vetting, and completed induction and orientation. Qualifications are validated prior to employment. A register of annual practising certificates (APCs) is maintained for RNs, ENs and associated health contractors (two general practitioners (GPs), one nurse practitioner (NP), one podiatrist, one physiotherapist, three pharmacists, and two dietitians).

		Staff performance is reviewed and discussed at regular intervals; this was confirmed through documentation sighted and interviews with staff.
Subsection 3.2: My pathway to wellbeing The people: I work together with my service providers so they know what matters to me, and we can decide what best supports my wellbeing. Te Tiriti: Service providers work in partnership with Māori and whānau, and support their aspirations, mana motuhake, and whānau rangatiratanga. As service providers: We work in partnership with people and whānau to support wellbeing.	FA	The multidisciplinary team at Elizabeth R worked in partnership with the resident and their whānau to support the resident's wellbeing. Eight residents' files were reviewed: five hospital files and three rest home files. These files included residents who: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • identified as Māori • were receiving care under a Whaikaha contract • self-administered medication • had a number of co-morbidities • had swallowing difficulties • had experienced a recent fall • were being administered anticoagulant therapy • had an elevated risk for developing a pressure injury There were no residents in Elizabeth R at the time of audit who had pressure injuries. Files reviewed verified the RN documented a plan of care for the resident following a comprehensive assessment, including consideration of the person's lived experience, cultural needs, values, and beliefs, and which considered wider service integration, where required. Assessments were based on a range of clinical assessments and included resident and whānau input (as applicable). Timeframes for the initial assessment, GP or NP assessment, initial care plan, long-term care plan, short-term care plans and review/evaluation timeframes met contractual requirements. This was verified by reviewing documentation, sampling residents' records, from interviews (including with the NP) and from observations. Management of any specific medical conditions was well documented, with evidence of systematic monitoring and regular evaluation of responses to planned care. Where progress was different to that expected, changes were made to the care plan in collaboration with the resident and/or their whānau.

		Residents and whānau confirmed active involvement in the process, including for residents with a disability.
Subsection 3.4: My medication The people: I receive my medication and blood products in a safe and timely manner. Te Tiriti: Service providers shall support and advocate for Māori to access appropriate medication and blood products. As service providers: We ensure people receive their medication and blood products in a safe and timely manner that complies with current legislative requirements and safe practice guidelines.	FA	The medication management policy was current and in line with the Medicines Care Guide for Residential Aged Care. A safe system for medicine management using an electronic system was observed on the day of audit. All staff who administer medicines had been assessed as competent to perform the function they manage. Medications were supplied to the facility from a contracted pharmacy. Medication reconciliation occurred. All medications sighted were within current use-by dates. Medicines were stored safely, including controlled drugs. The required stock checks had been completed. Medicines stored were within the recommended temperature range. There were no vaccines stored on site. Prescribing practices met requirements. The required three-monthly GP/NP review was consistently recorded on the medicine chart. Standing orders were not in use at Elizabeth R. There was a process in place to identify, record and communicate residents' medicine-related allergies or sensitivities. Self-administration of medication was facilitated and managed safely. Residents, including Māori residents and their whānau, were supported to understand their medications. Over-the-counter medication and supplements were considered by the prescriber as part of the person's medication.
Subsection 3.5: Nutrition to support wellbeing The people: Service providers meet my nutritional needs and consider my food preferences. Te Tiriti: Menu development respects and supports cultural beliefs, values, and protocols around food and access to traditional foods. As service providers: We ensure people's nutrition and	FA	The food service provided at Elizabeth R was in line with recognised nutritional guidelines for older people. The plan is due for re-audit on 21 August 2025. Each resident had a nutritional assessment on admission to the facility. The personal food preferences, any special diets and modified texture requirements were accommodated in the daily meal plan. All residents had opportunities to request meals of their choice, and the kitchen would address this. During Matariki, Māori Language Week, Waitangi Day and Pasifika Day, the kitchen prepared culturally specific foods for those residents who requested it. The cook prepared a 'boil up' when the residents requested this. Residents and whānau were able to supply selected foods for residents, and the kitchen prepared it for them. Interviews, observations and documentation verified residents were satisfied with the meals provided. Evidence of residents' satisfaction with meals was verified by residents and whānau interviews, satisfaction surveys, and resident and whānau meeting minutes. This was supported on the day of audit, when residents responded favourably regarding the meals provided. Residents were observed to be given sufficient time to eat their meals in an unhurried fashion, and those requiring assistance had this provided with dignity.
Subsection 3.6: Transition, transfer, and discharge The people: I work together with my service provider so they know what matters to me, and we can decide what best supports my wellbeing when I leave the service. Te Tiriti: Service providers advocate for Māori to ensure they and whānau receive the necessary support during their transition, transfer, and discharge. As service providers: We ensure the people using our service experience consistency and continuity when leaving our services. We work alongside each person and whānau to provide and coordinate a supported transition of care or support.	FA	Transfer or discharge from the service was planned and managed safely to include current needs and mitigate risk. The plan was developed with coordination between services and in collaboration with the resident and their whānau. The whānau of a resident who was recently transferred reported that they were kept well-informed throughout the process.

Subsection 4.1: The facility The people: I feel the environment is designed in a way that is safe and is sensitive to my needs. I am able to enter, exit, and move around the environment freely and safely. Te Tiriti: The environment and setting are designed to be Māori-centred and culturally safe for Māori and whānau. As service providers: Our physical environment is safe, well maintained, tidy, and comfortable and accessible, and the people we deliver services to can move independently and freely throughout. The physical environment optimises people's sense of belonging, independence, interaction, and function.	FA	Appropriate systems were in place to ensure the residents' physical environment and facilities (internal and external) were fit for their purpose, maintained and that they meet legislative requirements. There had been no changes to the facility since the previous audit. The building had a building warrant of fitness which expires on 4 July 2025. A planned maintenance schedule includes electrical testing and tagging, resident equipment checks, and calibrations of weigh scales and biomedical equipment. Monthly hot water tests are completed for resident areas; these were sighted and were all within acceptable limits.
Subsection 5.2: The infection prevention programme and implementation The people: I trust my provider is committed to implementing policies, systems, and processes to manage my risk of infection. Te Tiriti: The infection prevention programme is culturally safe. Communication about the programme is easy to access and navigate and messages are clear and relevant. As service providers: We develop and implement an infection prevention programme that is appropriate to the needs, size, and scope of our services.	FA	The infection prevention (IP) and antimicrobial stewardship (AMS) programmes at Elizabeth R are appropriate to the size and complexity of the service, have been approved by the governing body, link to the quality improvement system, and are reviewed and reported on yearly. Expertise and advice are sought following a defined process. A documented pathway supports risk-based reporting of progress, issues and noteworthy events to the governing body. Staff were familiar with policies through education during orientation, and ongoing education, and were observed following these correctly. Residents and their whānau are educated about infection prevention in a manner that meets their needs.
Subsection 5.4: Surveillance of health care-associated infection (HAI) The people: My health and progress are monitored as part of the surveillance programme. Te Tiriti: Surveillance is culturally safe and monitored by ethnicity. As service providers: We carry out surveillance of HAIs and multi-drug-resistant organisms in accordance with national	FA	Elizabeth R undertook surveillance of infections appropriate to that recommended for long-term care facilities, and this is in line with priorities defined in the infection control programme. The service used standardised surveillance definitions to identify and classify infection events that relate to the type of infection under surveillance. Monthly surveillance data was collated and analysed to identify any trends, possible causative factors, and required actions. Surveillance data included ethnicity data. Results of the surveillance programme were reported to

and regional surveillance programmes, agreed objectives, priorities, and methods specified in the infection prevention programme, and with an equity focus.		management and the governing body and shared with staff.
Subsection 6.1: A process of restraint The people: I trust the service provider is committed to improving policies, systems, and processes to ensure I am free from restrictions. Te Tiriti: Service providers work in partnership with Māori to ensure services are mana enhancing and use least restrictive practices. As service providers: We demonstrate the rationale for the use of restraint in the context of aiming for elimination.	FA	Heritage Lifecare is committed to a restraint-free environment in all its facilities, and Elizabeth R is restraint-free. There are strategies in place to support the elimination of restraint, including an investment in time and equipment to support the removal of restraint (e.g., use of 'intentional rounding' (scheduled resident checks), use of high/low beds, and sensor equipment). Documentation confirmed that restraint is discussed at governance level, and that aggregated information on restraint use at facility, regional and national level is reported to the board. Staff have been trained in the management of behaviours that challenge, least restrictive practice, safe restraint practice, alternative cultural-specific interventions, and de-escalation techniques, as part of the 2023 education programme. Restraint protocols are covered in the orientation programme of the facility and included in the education/training programme (which includes annual restraint competency).

Specific results for criterion where corrective actions are required

Where a subsection is rated partially attained (PA) or unattained (UA) specific corrective actions are recorded under the relevant criteria for the subsection. The following table contains the criterion where corrective actions have been recorded.

Criterion can be linked to the relevant subsection by looking at the code. For example, Criterion 1.1.1 My service provider shall embed and enact Te Tiriti o Waitangi within all its work, recognising Māori, and supporting Māori in their aspirations, whatever they are (that is, recognising mana motuhake) relates to subsection 1.1: Pae ora healthy futures in Section 1 Our rights.

If there is a message “no data to display” instead of a table, then no corrective actions were required as a result of this audit.

Specific results for criterion where a continuous improvement has been recorded

As well as whole subsections, individual criterion within a subsection can also be rated as having a continuous improvement. A continuous improvement means that the provider can demonstrate achievement beyond the level required for full attainment. The following table contains the criterion where the provider has been rated as having made corrective actions have been recorded.

As above, criterion can be linked to the relevant subsection by looking at the code. For example, Criterion 1.1.1 relates to subsection 1.1: Pae ora healthy futures in Section 1: Our rights.

If, instead of a table, there is a message “no data to display” then no continuous improvements were recorded as part of this audit.
